ISRA FED-PAC ANNOUNCES ENDORSEMENTS AND PREFERENCES IN U.S. CONGRESSIONAL RACES

CHICAGO, 19 January 2010 - - The following was released today by the ISRA Fed-PAC:

The ISRA Fed-PAC is pleased to announce its list of endorsed and preferred candidates in the 2010 Illinois Primary Election. Selections were made based on an analysis of candidate voting records, public statements, and stated positions on issues important to law-abiding Illinois gun owners. Candidates chosen for endorsement typically have long and proven records of support for our issues. Candidates given "preferred" status typically do not have adequate length of service to be endorsed, but have demonstrated that they share our organization's traditional view of the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Races in which ISRA Fed-PAC has shown no preference do not appear below.

Judge Donald Lowery was selected as the Preferred Candidate for U.S. Senate. Judge Lowery is a long-time friend of the Illinois hunter and sportsman.

Rep. Peter Roskam was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 6th U.S. House District.

Rep. Debbie Halvorson was endorsed in the Democratic primary race for the 11th U.S. House District.

Mr. Henry Meers was selected as the Preferred Candidate in the Republican primary race for the 11th U.S. House District.

Rep. Jerry Costello was endorsed in the Democratic primary race for the 12th U.S. House District.

Rep. Judy Biggert was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 13th U.S. House District.

Rep. Randy Hultgren was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 14th U.S. House District.

Rep. Tim Johnson was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 15th U.S. House District.

Rep. Don Manzullo was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 16th U.S. House District.

Rep. Aaron Schock was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 18th U.S. House District.

Rep. John Shimkus was endorsed in the Republican primary race for the 19th U.S. House District.

We wish each of our endorsed and preferred candidates the best of luck in the 2010 Illinois Primary.
